Welcome to The 10th Annual American Business Awards.

It is hard to believe that it is 10 years since we staged the first ABAs, which were attended by 440 executives. I remember our first emcee, Charles Osgood of CBS News, announcing the very first Stevie® Award winner—it was Domino's Pizza.

The ABAs have grown every year. We have successfully started and grown three other Stevie Awards competitions—The International Business Awards, the Stevie Awards for Women in Business, and the Stevie Awards for Sales & Customer Service. And I'm hopeful that we will soon be able to announce the very first edition of a national Stevie Awards program in another nation.

To celebrate our 10th anniversary we introduced many new aspects to our programs this year. Chief among them are the introduction of Silver and Bronze Stevie Award trophies, our new Best of the ABA prizes, and America Means Business, a three-day celebration of entrepreneurship offering education about how to start and grow a business, which we staged in New York City on June 13–15.

The aspect of our awards programs of which I am most proud is our judging system and the number and quality of judges we work with each year. This year's American Business Awards were adjudicated by more than 270 professionals nationwide, all of whom are recognized in this program.

Thank you for your participation and support of the Stevie Awards, and for your attendance this evening. Enjoy the show!

A collection agency winning Stevies!
What, for making people sweat?

No, just the opposite.

Our “Nice People Collect More” strategy is transforming the collection industry. Since we launched it in late 2011, Access has realized an average increase in collection payments of more than 40% – spectacular results by any measure.

It's why we've won a Stevie for “Most Innovative Company of the Year” and another Stevie for the video explaining our strategy.

So the next time you, or your A/R executive need a collection agency, remember the one that will get great results while maintaining your good name, because “Nice People Collect More.”

Nice people collect more.™

AIReS congratulates all Gold, Silver and Bronze Stevie Awards winners.

We are honored with a place among this year's prestigious American Business Award winners.

At AIReS, we believe world class technology is important to business, regardless of industry. Our internal developers are constantly at work streamlining automated processes, rolling out new enhancements to proprietary systems, and ensuring our technology is second to none when it comes to global mobility.

This year, on top of new internal efficiencies and client-facing automations, AIReS released our first mobile application for iPhone and Apple device users. With all the features and security available via logging into AIReS' ReloNet® Web Services online interface from the home or office, the AIReSMobile app puts real time relocation data and management at the transferee's fingertips.

Through AIReSMobile, transferees can view key dates, documents, and comments regarding household goods shipment, home sale and purchase status, temporary housing, immigration, language and cultural training, and more. AIReSMobile also provides transferees with a checklist to help manage key action items. A key leading-edge feature of AIReSMobile is the ability to submit expenses for reimbursement by uploading images of receipts.

AIReSMobile is just one of the latest proprietary technology advancements AIReS developed internally for the benefit of our clients. Many developing projects are in the works, proving AIReS' commitment to moving relocation to the next level.

Far better it is to dare mighty things,

to win glorious triumphs,
even though checkered by failure,
than to take rank with those poor spirits who neither enjoy much nor suffer much, because they live in the gray twilight that knows neither victory nor defeat.
